About Acta: Page 11

As the virus continues to spread unabated, the biggest toll of Covid-19 is on those trapped in an exhausting cycle of domestic chores, work, and caregiving. A lot has been written in India on equal distribution of labour, so much so that a woman has even started a petition asking Prime Minister Narendra Modi to instruct men to share household chores with their wives and partners!

In addition to the burden of unpaid labour, the virus has also sharply increased the gender inequality gap. Women are losing paid work, and the lockdown has pushed them into the role of primary caregivers of children, the elderly, the ill, and those who live with disabilities.

In addition to this domestic violence in India continues to put women at risk, with no scope of escape in the lockdown. Individuals from the queer community continue to be trapped in hostile homes. Sex workers are more vulnerable than ever to abuse and deprivation. The collective worry is that it will take years to recover from this and achieve gender parity. Question is, how extensive will the damage be by then?

Call To Action: Building Gender Balanced Panels

Word: Manel

Definition: A panel, where all members present are "male." Have you noticed a rise in #Manels — or all male panels recently? We have. It seems even during the #Covid19 lockdown, webinars are not mindful of diversity in the way they shape participation.

Women make up a considerable part of the formal workplace and yet they are not fairly represented in opinion spaces. Other genders also have little or no representation at these events. At Ungender, we curate a #NoMoreManel thread on Twitter because we feel representation forms the backbone of empowerment. To be seen and heard is to inspire others to aspire to these roles.

So we, at Ungender Legal Advisory, decided to put out a call to action about how we can help change the narrative. We created a Google form to collect responses online on experts in various subject areas who aren't just cisgender male. The form has over 50 categories and allows anyone either to nominate themselves or recommend a speaker from an under-represented gender; Cisgender women, trans woman, trans man, nonbinary individuals, and others who identify as gender fluid.

What we hope to do is when we have crowdsourced a big enough list, we hope that it will serve as a helpful document to refer to for organisations when they are putting together panels and will have names they can reach out to represent as experts. On our Twitter #manel thread, we will continue to post panels that are balanced and post for panels that are not. Access the form here.

Ungender Unlearn

All of us are a product of age old conditioning supported by the language we learned, books we read, media we watched.

Add to this societal rules that have been passed on through generations. Un-learn harmful language and biases.

STEREOTYPES

Gender stereotypes harm. At Ungender, we have started to analyze advertisements over the years to see how brands wove narratives around gender roles and work and how times have changed.

INTERNALISED BIAS

Addressing internal bias is key to understanding how our prejudices are harming others at the workplace and at other spaces.

GENDER BIAS

Over centuries, men and women have been conditioned to be gatekeepers of patriarchy which often spills over at the workplace. Gender roles and expression form part of the conditioning. Workplaces should centre diversity and inclusion in all that they do.

Ungender Suggests

How can we do better? How can we reach out and change what we see and hear and address gender diversity, gender roles and expressions?

Here are some of the ways.

The need to listen, think, and learn with each other, particularly voices from the margins of women, of the queer community, of the oppressed castes, of the whispers of nature with a spirit of comradeship is vital.

ENGAGEMENT

Do you engage and try to learn from communities? Polls are a great tool for engagement. They allow organisations to gauge what their audience is thinking.

EMPOWERMENT

Gender Inclusive Appointments & Awards

What happens when under-represented gender groups are appointed to prominent positions? It allows others to aspire to those positions and gives them hope. Representation and acknowledgement of work goes a long way to empower and nurture the workforce.

Report Of The Month

In every issue of Ungender Acta, we will bring you key research happening around the world in the space of workplace, gender, pay, diversity, inclusion, and a lot of other things.

In this edition, we highlight UN's report, 'Sustainable Development Goals Report 2020'. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development was launched in 2015 to end poverty and set the world on a path of peace, prosperity and opportunity for all on a healthy planet. The SDG Report 2020 brings together the latest data to show that, before the Covid-19 pandemic, progress remained uneven. The world wasn't on track to meet the Goals by 2030. Now, due to Covid-19, an unprecedented socioeconomic and health crisis is threatening lives and livelihoods
